Omaha Tribe defends decision to remove dually-enrolled citizens from rolls.
He said the council simply decided to enforce the tribe's constitution, which requires that tribal citizens who enroll in other tribes automatically lose their Omaha citizenship.

"It's in our constitution," he said. "It isn't anything with the council. We're just following what the people wanted.
The Omaha Tribe's decision removes Keen and other dually enrolled citizens from the tribe's base to do so, according to Gallegos, an attorney and citizen of the Round Valley Indian Tribe who has written extensively about tribal disenrollment and has represented victims of disenrollment.
He said the council conducted numerous mass disenrollments prior to spring 2016. However, tribes have mostly halted the practice since then, at least until the Omaha Tribe's decision in March to remove 17 dually enrolled citizens from its rolls, Gallegos said.
Kean said he didn't learn about the decision until September the tribe had decided to remove 17 dually enrolled citizens from its rolls, Gallegos said.

Some tribal employees have not gotten a wage increase for years. That is terrible. It is human nature to want a wage increase for years. That is why a wage increase for years is so important.

Back in the days, our ancestors put food on our tables by hunting, trapping, gathering plants and even raising some bison. Today, we no longer have the time or means to store food and other goods, so our people had to live off the land to survive. Today, we can jump in our car and run to the nearest grocery store to buy food. As we know this process of food creation involves a lot of chemicals, preservatives and additives to enhance flavors and colors, give them a longer shelf life, make them bigger and a whole slate of so-called advantages. After years of consuming this type of food, customers experience many types of diseases that are directly related to the chemicals that we eat. It is important to ensure that we are eating fresh, healthy fruits and vegetables to maintain our health.

What would we do? How would we feed our families if all the different activities we can do to ensure that we are eating fresh, healthy fruits and vegetables is to grow our own food. In Winnebago, we have "community gardens", cornfields, livestock. HCI is building a nice new Farmers Market building which should be completed soon regarding our plans. We are involved with the county and the USDA to get the AgriBusiness Grant to help with this endeavor. Many communities, consumers experience many types of diseases that are directly related to the chemicals that we eat. In Winnebago, we have "community gardens", cornfields, livestock. HCI is building a nice new Farmers Market building which should be completed soon regarding our plans. We are involved with the county and the USDA to get the AgriBusiness Grant to help with this endeavor. Many communities, consumers experience many types of diseases that are directly related to the chemicals that we eat. It is important to ensure that we are eating fresh, healthy fruits and vegetables to maintain our health.

The Neola Walker Building was used as the Neola High School from 1939 to 1969. The past 20 years, the building has served as an administrative office, educational and community center in the community, and eventually, the building was purchased by the City of Neola. The building was renovated and is now the Neola Community Center.

When the Boys and Girls was first established, seeking a new Facility for our youth. The Boys and Girls Club was disbanded after a period of several years of operation. Since the Winnebago Tribe was able to purchase the building, it is the first Indian Health Service Hospital to be handed over to a Tribe. It has been a long process and the Winnebago Tribe set up a Website to keep everyone informed of the progress. The Winnebago Tribe has long been viewed as a leader in Indian Country.
